"Obeah" and Other Martinican Stories - Marie-Magdeleine Carbet 2017-04-01

This volume comprises French versions and English translations of seven short stories written by Marie-Magdeleine Carbet, Martinique's most prolific woman writer. Four of these stories are previously unpublished, culled from documents obtained from Carbet's niece. While analyses of the literature of the French Caribbean have tended to portray these people typically as suffering from pathologies of colonial oppression, the situations and reflections presented in these stories offer different perspectives on the lives and concerns of ordinary Martinicans and thus provide insight into some of the missing links of the sociocultural scene. This unique, multifaceted text fills an important pedagogical and scholarly need, and allows the reader to access the daily lives of French Caribbeans in a significantly authentic way.

Flatt also shares background into his own life as he transformed into a professional musician, married twice, raised children, bought two motorcycles in the same day, retired, and battled health issues. Critical Dialogues in Latinx Studies - Ana Y. Ramos-Zayas 2021-08-10

Introduces new approaches, theoretical trends, and understudied topics in Latinx Studies This groundbreaking work offers a multidisciplinary, social-science oriented perspective on Latinx studies, including the social histories and contemporary lives of a diverse range of Latina and Latino populations. The editors frame the volume around the "humanistic social sciences," using the term to highlight the historical and social contexts under which expressive cultural forms and archival records are created. Critical Dialogues in Latinx Studies masterfully sheds light on the diversity and complexity of the everyday lives of Latinx populations, the political economic structures that shape enduring racialization and cultural stereotyping, and the continuing efforts to carve out new lives as diasporic, transnational, global, and colonial subjects.

A Miracle Worker's Primer - Anna Sweetnam 2012-12-13

Life can be easy or as difficult as we want; it is a choice! Today you are invited into the Keller household, like a fly on the wall, to witness family challenges not much different than your own. Take their lead and use this primer as a handy guide to champion your will and the will of the ones you love. Embrace a bigger picture of day to day life. Honor the Fourth Dimension; honor your Spirit, which cries for you to understand this higher dimension. Spirit cries for inner discipline—the discipline necessary to tap into genuine potential. We are so much more than the life drama that we create and the drama that surrounds us. Know that in as little as a nanosecond we can shift from an overwrought, emotional human mess to a grounded, sure-footed spiritual being. We can have a great day, or we can create a great day! Feel that nanosecond shift. It is this creating that we begin to tap into genuine potential, living life in harmony, synchronicity, and bliss. Life aligns. Not until then can we begin to tap into and build on the essence of who we are and who we are meant to be. Accordingly, some would say you live a life of good luck, but we know it's a life of better thinking, aligning, and manifesting—of constant conscious connections toward actively seeking heaven on earth as a miracle worker. Now life is easy.

The New Mother (and other stories) - Lucy Lane Clifford 2012-11-08

The writings of Lucy Lane Clifford (who also wrote as Mrs W K Clifford) were for almost a century completely lost to obscurity, but during her lifetime this extraordinary woman was a friend and confidant of Henry James, Rudyard Kipling, Thomas Hardy and other luminaries of the day. This collection contains possibly her best works. Her writings, originally penned as cautionary didactic tales for Victorian children, present themselves as a cycle of unique fables of existential dread and alienation, worthy (at their best) of a Kafka or Borges. Ranging from paeans to autism ('Wooden Tony' or 'The Paper Fish') or surreal horror ('The New Mother') this collection asks for Mrs Clifford to be reappraised as a precursor to 20th century and 21st century literature. This collection has been augmented with collages by artist D M Mitchell to show the link to such allegorical artists as Leonora Carrington, Max Ernst and Toyen.

The Stories Mother Nature Told Her Children - James Andrews 2004-10

Do you know Mother Nature? She it is to whom God has given the care of the earth, and all that grows in or upon it, just as he has given to your mother the care of her family of boys and girls. You may think that Mother Nature, like the famous "old woman who lived in the shoe," has so many children that she doesn't know what to do. But you will know better when you become acquainted with her, and learn how strong she is, and how active; how she can really be in fifty places at once, taking care of a sick tree, or a baby flower just born; and, at the same time, building underground palaces, guiding the steps of little travellers setting out on long journeys,

Cavalleria Rusticana and Other Stories - Giovanni Verga 2006-03-30

The stories of Giovanni Verga (1840-1922) are wonderful evocations of ordinary Italian life, focusing in particular on his native Sicily. In an original and dynamic prose style, he portrays such eternal human themes as love, honour and adultery with rich and colourful language. The inspiration for Mascagni's opera, 'Cavalleria Rusticana' depicts a young man's triumphal return home from the army, spoiled when he learns that his beloved is engaged to another man. Verga's acute awareness of the hardships and aspirations of peasant life can be seen in stories such as 'Nedda', 'Picturesque Lives' and 'Black Bread', while others such as 'The Reverend' and 'Don Licciu Papa' show the dominance of the church and the law in the Sicilian communities he portrays so vividly.
